

MRS. WAITE CONFRONTS HER HUSBAND

STIFLES AGAINST HIM IN HIS TRIAL FOR THE MURDER OF HIS FATHER-IN-LAW.

CLEAR WIRE MYSTERY

Sender of Mysterious Telegram Warning Peck's Relatives to Hold Autopsy, Identified Today.

New York, May 24.—The trial of Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, for the murder of his father-in-law, John E. Peck, advanced today to an exposition of motives supposed to lie behind the alleged crime. Technical evidence to prove that the young dentist killed Mr. Peck by dosing him with arsenic, was virtually finished when court convened today.

The sender of the mysterious "K. Jams" telegram which has figured in the case of Dr. Waite, was identified as Elizabeth B. Hardwick, of Sumnerville, New Jersey, at Waite's trial today. This was the telegram sent from New York to Grand Rapids urging Percy Peck to have an autopsy performed on his father's body.

Mrs. Clara Louise Peck Waite faced her husband, Dr. Arthur Warren Waite in the court for the first time today when she took the stand as a witness against him. Mrs. Waite, dressed in mourning, came into the court room so quietly that few observed her as she took a seat behind the jury box as her brother, Percy Peck, was testifying. Dr. Waite, who had been sitting with bowed head all forenoon, looked at his wife but she refused to look at him.

Mrs. Waite testified concerning her father's visit from Grand Rapids to New York and said Waite suggested that Dr. Albertus A. Moore be called to see her father.

"We, that is father, Dr. Waite and myself, had planned to go to Hot Springs on a visit. Father appeared to be in very good health."

SENATORS FIGHTING THE "PORK BARREL"

Wisconsin Senator Urges Attention of Congress Be Devoted to Preparedness.

Washington, May 24.—Senator Paul Hastings, democrat, of Wisconsin, joined today the opposition to the rivers and harbors bill, and gave notice he would move to have it sent back to the commerce committee. He urged that even meritorious items in the bill be laid aside, while the entire attention of congress be given to preparedness.

Mr. Hastings in his speech of acceptance described Mr. Jeffris as a statesman by nature—a man to be proud of. He spoke of the political chaos that has made of Wisconsin "a fertile field for designing politicians." Honest reform, said he, "has been lost in the weeds of freak legislation."

Mr. Hastings pointed out the dangers of drifting in the direction of socialism, and added that under real republican rule the number of empty dinner pails in America are reduced to a minimum. He touched on the great work before the republican party, citing the repeal of the Underwood tariff and the substitution of a "truly American protective tariff" as one of the highest aims of the party. Had it not been for the war, he said, the country would have experienced a panic.

The campaign will be conducted, said Mr. Hastings, in votes on principles. And in this fight, he said, Mr. Jeffris more than he needs us.

He appealed especially to the young men to become active in the work of the club. "The future of the nation," he said, "is in the hands of the young men. It is their duty to stand guard and protect the future of this country."

PENSIONS FOR AGED MORE BADLY NEEDED THAN DEFENSE FUND

Cleveland Minister Denounces Preparedness Agitation in Address Today at Sheboygan.

Sheboygan, May 24.—"The money we pay for armies and navies would save every person, when sixty-five years of age, in the United States a pension of $16 per month," said the Rev. Dr. Dan F. Bradley of Cleveland, Ohio, last night in the closing address of the seventy-fourth annual conference of the Congregational churches of Milwaukee district.

Dr. Bradley spoke on the plan for a minister's retiring fund, and said he believed the time is coming when every person over sixty-five years will receive a pension. He bitterly denounced the preparedness wave that is going over the country as leading to a state of barbarism.

"As individuals we do not go about with a revolver in a pocket, a knife in our belt, and a loaded rifle at the side of our door for protection. We have grown away from it, but as a government we have not advanced the respectability of why, my neighbor, the former mayor of my city, now Secretary of War Baker, wrote me the other day that the rules governing our armies were drafted in 1815, 101 years ago."

"We pay $16,000,000 for a super-dreadnaught for our navy and put 1,000 men on her, when two or three hundred can do all the work. If she gets into a battle with an enemy ship, she is a man on a loaded gun, operating a gun. The smoke will be detected by an officer with glasses. The distance is figured out and the ship is sunk by a shell while twelve to fifteen miles away."

"Our ship is sunk with her 1,000 men. In olden times, a lot of men were needed on navy vessels to board an enemy ship when captured, but not now."

"The army has distributed glaring posters seeking recruits with promises of education travel and profit, and shows it lies in doing so. They will be sent to the front in a few years, to the sandhills of southwestern Texas, and receive $15 per month, or fifty cents a day, and board—embalming fluid, as a congressman said the other day. That is in the war department, while the coast guard, operating under the treasury department, to save lives, instead of destroy them, pays its men $65 per month with $9 for rations."

COURT TO DECIDE ON EVIDENCE IN THE ORPET TRIAL

Judge to Make Ruling on Circumstantial Evidence—Question Raised by Attorneys in Obtaining Jury.

Waukegan, May 24.—A ruling that it is expected will enter largely into the trial of Will H. Orpet, the University of Wisconsin student charged with the murder of his sweetheart, Marion Lambert, and relating to the degree of credence the jury shall place in circumstantial evidence, was promised today by Judge Donnelly, who is hearing the case. The point arose in the examination of prospective jurors, when J. H. Wilkerson, senior counsel for Orpet in an examination of L. G. Hieronymouse, advised him that circumstantial evidence should be taken with caution. State Attorney Dady disputed the assertion and authorities were cited. The court promised a ruling today, but announced he would be compelled to take more time for examination of the authorities.

Hieronymouse, who had been tentatively accepted by the defense for jury service, was today accepted by the state. The examination of the new venire, composed largely of prominent local business men and bankers, was started. It is hoped that out of the one hundred men summoned, a jury may be completed by the end of the week.

RUSSIAN BARK SUNK BY AUSTRIAN BOAT

Captain of Ill-fated Vessel Arrives in Port and Tells of Ravages of Submarine.

Barcelona, Spain, May 24.—The Russian bark, Regina, has been sunk by an Austrian submarine. Her captain and crew arrived here today.

The captain states that near Barcelona he met two lifeboats containing the crew of two Italian sailing vessels, both of which were sunk by the same Austrian submarine.

Greek Steamer Sunk. Tarragona, Spain, May 24.—Twenty-one members of the crew of the Greek steamer Istros, 1,900 tons, have arrived here in lifeboats. They report their vessel was torpedoed by an Austrian submarine.

OFFICER SENTENCED UNDER TREASON LAWS

Captain White Imprisoned For Three Years For Inducing Miners to Strike For Irish Leaders.

London, May 24.—Captain James R. White, formerly of the First Gordon Highlanders and a son of late Field Marshal Sir George White, the defender of Ladysmith, was sentenced today to three months' imprisonment at Alderson's. He was convicted under the defense of the Realm act for having attempted to induce coal miners to strike in order to compel the government to show leniency toward leaders of rebellion in Ireland.

Holds Residence Part of Optometry Law Illegal. Madison, May 24.—The provision of the optometry law which holds that a man must be a resident of the state two years, regardless of the number of years he has practiced optometry, before he will be eligible to take the practical examination of an optometrist, was held illegal by Attorney General Owen today.

MILWAUKEE CLUB TO HAVE BIG LIST OF GENUINE BOOSTERS

Cream City Republicans Organize a Jeffris Club at Meeting Last Evening.

Milwaukee, May 24.—In his fight to repeal Prohibition in the United States senate, Malcolm G. Jeffris, republican, will have the co-operation of a Milwaukee county club with a membership of 10,000 voters.

The Milwaukee County Jeffris club was organized at a well attended meeting in the gold room of the Wisconsin hotel Tuesday night. It was announced that the organization will reach out for members in every precinct in the county, and when the campaign is under way it will be predicted the membership will have reached the 10,000 mark.

It is planned to conduct an educational campaign, in which the issues and republican principles will be clearly set forth. A series of meetings will be held in Milwaukee and at other points in the county, and Mr. Jeffris will be invited to make several speeches here.

Wheeler Named President. Lyman G. Wheeler, Milwaukee, was elected president of the club. Landermann was chosen temporary secretary. Under the articles of organization the president will name an executive committee of five members. After conferring with precinct leaders, the executive committee will name a general committee, which will be placed in immediate charge of the campaign.

Tuesday night's conference was especially interesting because men representing the conservatives, the progressives and the democrats were present to pledge their active support for Mr. Jeffris.

Mr. Jeffris in his speech of acceptance described Mr. Jeffris as a statesman by nature—a man to be proud of. He spoke of the political chaos that has made of Wisconsin "a fertile field for designing politicians." Honest reform, said he, "has been lost in the weeds of freak legislation."

Mr. Jeffris pointed out the dangers of drifting in the direction of socialism, and added that under real republican rule the number of empty dinner pails in America are reduced to a minimum. He touched on the great work before the republican party, citing the repeal of the Underwood tariff and the substitution of a "truly American protective tariff" as one of the highest aims of the party. Had it not been for the war, he said, the country would have experienced a panic.

The campaign will be conducted, said Mr. Jeffris, in votes on principles. And in this fight, he said, Mr. Jeffris more than he needs us.

He appealed especially to the young men to become active in the work of the club. "The future of the nation," he said, "is in the hands of the young men. It is their duty to stand guard and protect the future of this country."

IS SENDING VON BUELOW TO AMERICA?

GERMAN EMPEROR REPORTED TO HAVE DISPATCHED REPRESENTATIVE ON SPECIAL MISSION.

London, May 24.—The Exchange Telegraph company says it learns from diplomatic circles, that Prince Von Buelow, former German chancellor, is proceeding to Washington charged by Emperor William with a special mission.

The Exchange Telegraph company also says it understands Prince Von Buelow will become ambassador to the United States. This information is said to have been obtained from diplomatic circles in London.

Skeptical at Washington. Washington, May 24.—State department officials were frankly skeptical of the accuracy of the report that Prince Von Buelow is coming to Washington on a special mission from Emperor William. They have received no official communication that such a visit was in prospect.

A high official pointed out that the report originated in London, which to his mind was a doubtful source of truth since it was certain to be widely discussed as a possible peace overture from Germany. The Berlin government, he said, had not yet seen fit to suggest a peace move officially or confidentially in any way.

To Succeed Bernstorff. The possibility that the former chancellor would supplant Count Von Bernstorff as ambassador here also was greatly doubted in official circles. Ambassador Von Bernstorff's diplomatic achievements through the submarine controversy, it was stated, seemed to make it certain he would be left undisturbed by his government.

Should Prince Von Buelow arrive in Washington on a special mission, it is thought, it likely his task would be somewhat similar to that assigned to Colonel E. M. House, by President Wilson on several occasions when the former has visited the belligerent capitals.

In addition to securing first hand information as to the American viewpoint on many matters, involved in the war, the Emperor might desire, it was said, to adjust through a personal interview with the president, the Washington government so severely strained by the submarine controversy.

Matters For Investigation. It was suggested that Prince Von Buelow might also seek direct information as to the administration's views upon American neutrality, activity of Germans in conspiracies in this country, and the sale of munitions to the belligerents. The former president Wilson and with Secretary Lansing still confined to his home with illness, no official would hazard speculation regarding the probable attitude of the president if Prince Von Buelow should arrive with or without official credentials, upon a peace mission.

SEEK EXPLANATION OF EARLY PHASES OF VERDUN BATTLE

Petition Being Circulated in French Deputies for Secret Session to Get Inside Information.

Paris, May 24.—A motion demanding a secret sitting of the chamber of deputies on May 14, after a profound sensation had been caused in Paris by the publication in newspapers of a charge that a general of the French staff contemplated a retreat of the forces of the right bank of the Meuse. This charge was denied at the time by an official statement that the chief command had never given any order for a retreat, any time during the battle of Verdun.

Attempt Fierce Attack. Paris, May 24.—A powerful offensive was undertaken by the Germans last night east of Dead Man's Hill, on the Verdun front. The attempt in general was unsuccessful, the war office reported. The Germans made a fierce hand to hand struggle, but the attacking forces made their way into a portion of the village of Cumieres.

Fire Munition Depot. An Italian shell has blown up the largest munition depot at Rovereto, and the town is now in flames, according to a news dispatch from Rome.

Further German Gains. Berlin, May 24.—The capture by Turkish troops of the village of Guelesin, east of Deadman's Hill on the Verdun front, was announced by the war office this afternoon. The village was taken by storm. So far more than 300 prisoners including eight officers, have been taken by the Germans in this operation.

CROSS DVINA FIRST; THEN TALK OF PEACE

Von Hindenburg Warns His Men That Fighting Is Not Yet Over on the Russian Front.

London, May 24.—The order of the day said to have been issued recently by Field Marshal Von Hindenburg to his troops on the Russian front is quoted as follows in a Central news dispatch from Basel, Switzerland:

"For some time a rumor has been spreading among the troops that peace negotiations had begun, and this fact, coupled with the instinct of self preservation which is constantly growing, is having a bad effect on the morale of the men."

In addition to securing first hand information as to the American viewpoint on many matters, involved in the war, the Emperor might desire, it was said, to adjust through a personal interview with the president, the Washington government so severely strained by the submarine controversy.

Matters For Investigation. It was suggested that Prince Von Buelow might also seek direct information as to the administration's views upon American neutrality, activity of Germans in conspiracies in this country, and the sale of munitions to the belligerents. The former president Wilson and with Secretary Lansing still confined to his home with illness, no official would hazard speculation regarding the probable attitude of the president if Prince Von Buelow should arrive with or without official credentials, upon a peace mission.

WIRE TAPPING USED FOR TWO PURPOSES

New York, May 24.—The telephone tapping investigation today developed into two distinct directions.

One investigation, it was stated, had to do with the alleged tapping of the telephone of Seymour Seymour, attorney, said to be interested in war munition contracts. The other had to do with the tapping of the telephone of a wire tapping police officer, who was charged with the tapping of certain Catholic creditable institutions.

MATTERS BABY CASE TO JURY THURSDAY

Defense Comes to Sudden Close as Result of Defendant's Nervous Breakdown.

Chicago, May 24.—Assistant States Attorney Ramsey, prosecuting the case of Mrs. Dottie Ledgeton Matters who place two rebuttal witnesses on the stand today, it is announced, and then the closing argument in the case will be started. It is expected the case will go to the jury tomorrow.

The defense of Mrs. Matters who is charged with attempting to foist a supposed heir on the court in an attempt to secure a greater share in the estate of her deceased husband, Fred Matters, came to a sudden and unexpected close yesterday. It had been expected the defense would appear as witnesses in her own behalf but according to her attorneys, she is near a nervous breakdown on account of illness of the child she claimed her husband was the father of. A witness was thought to be too severe for her to undergo.

URGES NOMINATION OF LEONARD WOOD

Madison, Wis., May 24.—James A. Stewart of New York, chairman of the National Citizens' committee, which is working to win back the nomination of Leonard Wood at the republican national convention, spent yesterday in Madison.

The republican nominee is going to be nominated, he said, not before as heretofore—and his identity today is hidden from anyone except the guessers," said Mr. Stewart. "As things are it is Roosevelt and Hughes being the most likely candidates."

Appleton, May 24.—The Alpha Delta Phi sorority of Lawrence college has adopted a French war baby. Each member of the sorority will pay ten cents a week for two years toward the support of the child. The child has been named Phedra after the local chapter.

Peter Norbeck Wins South Dakota Nomination. Pierre, South Dakota, May 24.—That Peter Norbeck, lieutenant governor, has won the republican nomination for governor, is shown by returns received up to early this morning.

BRAVE SERB TROOPS WILL SEE RESTORED NATION SAYS PRINCE

Future King of Serbia Reviews His Army and Expresses Confidence in Promises of His Allies.

Athens, May 22, via London, May 24.—(Delayed.) Prince Alexander of Serbia, king Peter's handsome son, in an interview today with a representative of the Associated Press said he had assurances from all the allies no settlement of the war would be accepted which did not provide for the restoration of Serbia.

"I receive you," he said, "to prove how deeply I appreciate the tone of the American press which, while defending the sacred principle of the rights of all peoples, has thereby rendered justice to our right to exist as an independent nation."

At the headquarters of the army in review before the prince, brave and proud in their new uniforms and in perfect physical trim, his faith took an exalted opinion as he saluted each passing flag. Soze of the soldiers were gray haired men and some were merely boys. Many of them had been under arms constantly for six years.

"They are completely restored," said the prince, and asking nothing better than to come to the aid of the invaders of their native land. Strong in the friendship of our great allies, we place our trust in God, and are confident that we shall enter our fatherland in triumph and free our brothers from the yoke of the oppressors."

Just then a company of the famous "men of Morava Valley" swept past; big, blond, chest-thumping men in the flower of their manhood. Prince Alexander's face lit up as he saluted them. Suddenly he cried:

"Forward Serbia!"

The company came to a halt, swung around as one man and looking at the future sovereign eye to eye. There was a rattle as they presented arms, and then one hundred voices answered the prince's shout:

"Forward Alexander Karageorgevitch for Serbia!"

The prince turned to the correspondents, his eyes lifting behind his helmet to countenance shining like that of a crusader.

"You see," he said simply.

GAVIRA IN CHARGE OF FRONTIER ZONE

Receives Orders From Carranza to Pursue Relentlessly All Outlaw Bandit Gangs.

Chihuahua, Mex., May 24.—General Gavira, Carranza commander at Juarez, has been appointed commander of military zone of the state of Chihuahua, and will have under his command a brigade of 1000 cavalry under Francisco Gonzales has been sent him to reinforce all garrisons and important points along the Mexican northwest railroad from Juarez to Tempe. General Gavira has been ordered to pursue vigorously all outlaw bands.

Villa is hiding at Hacienda Mimic, about 125 miles from Juarez, while nursing his wounds, according to a report received by General Ignacio Ramos at Juarez and sent here. General Ramos says his information comes from reliable sources, and that which state the bandit had small bands of followers in Lázaro and San Bernardino near Mimbura.

More than 1200 followers of General Francisco Reyes are now being disarmed in the Nazas district.

Villa Bands Reorganizing. Columbus, N. M., May 24.—Reorganizations of at least two of Villa's bands were reported here unofficially today. These bands were recruited by agitators along the villages of the foothills of southwestern Chihuahua, are said to be making their way northward through the mountains. Peons who joined them are being promised loot. General Pershing is said to be keeping closely in touch with the movement of the brigades.

FORD DESIGNATES LIBEL TRIAL TERMS

Automobile Manufacturer Will Ask Records of Navy League Be Produced in Court.

Detroit, May 24.—Henry Ford, the manufacturer, today replied by letter to a telegram from Robert M. Thompson, president of the navy league, at Washington, in which Thompson notified Ford that the league had commenced suit for $100,000 against Ford. The suit alleging libel is based upon charges in which it is claimed that Ford in his campaign against preparedness, made against the league.

Mr. Ford in his reply agrees to have his appearance in court, and in the case entered provided the navy league will bring all of its records in to court and immediately place on the witness stand "for examination, its officers and such of its contributing members as we may designate."

Alfred Luckin, attorney for the automobile builder, will go to Washington on Monday to join issue in the case if Ford's proposals are accepted. Ford's letter to Thompson declares:

Radiogram Picked up by American Steamer Ventura is New Long Distance Record.

Sidney, N. S. W., via London, May 24.—The American steamship Ventura which has just arrived here from San Francisco, reports that she picked up a wireless message from the steamer at Ruckerton, New Jersey, when 9,000 miles distant from that point. This is said to be a world record.

Intensive Co-Operation

When the manufacturer advertises his goods in the newspapers he is giving intensive co-operation to the dealers who carry his brand.

He is moving customers directly into the stores and moving his own goods from the shelves.

Naturally the retailers appreciate help of this sort and put their best effort behind the goods.

Sales follow in an ever increasing ratio, profitable to both manufacturer and dealer.

Manufacturers interested in intensive markets are invited to ask questions of the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York.

POLAND'S REFUGEES COMING TO AMERICA

When Germans Came Into Russian Poland They Were Forced Out Across Siberia to Pacific Coast.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Seattle, Wash., May 24.—Since July 15 last 500 Jewish young men and a dozen Jewish women and children, refugees from Russian Poland and other portions of Western Russia, arrived in Seattle after journeying through Siberia by railroad and crossing the Pacific on steamers, mostly Japanese freighters. A few have come directly from Vladivostok, but most of them took steamer at Yokohama and Kobe. Many of the young men are graduates of the Gymnasium, which ranks with the American state university. All are well educated and belonged to the better classes in their native land. Some were wealthy.

When it became apparent to the refugees that they could not hold out in Poland, they fled by rail, carrying with them supplies that would have been of benefit to the Germans, and they fled away from the young Poles, Jews and Russians whom they feared the Germans might impress as soldiers. These young men received from the Russian commanders slips of paper entitling them to travel on the Russian railways without charge. The Russian and Polish young men stopped their travel when they reached districts which were not threatened with German invasion, but many Jewish youths continued to travel toward Russia and Siberia are highly interesting. Those who were well provided with money arrived in Vladivostok first, made their way to Japan by freight or passenger steamers, and in due time arrived in Seattle. Here those who had the required sum of money entered without hindrance, but those who were without funds were ordered deported. The detained immigrants made their plight known to public spirited Jews in Seattle, who assisted the young men to appeal to Washington against the order of deportation. Then when the department of labor said the men would be admitted if bonds were furnished guaranteeing that they would not become public charges, these Seattle Jews provided the funds, and they are still signing bonds.

When it was seen that the influx of young Jews probably would not end while the war lasted, the Seattle Jews appealed to the Highways Sheltering Aid Society of America, which has headquarters in New York. This society assumed portion of the burden of caring for the refugees. It provided the former residence of United States Senator Squires and equipped it as a home for the immigrants. Those who came with pockets full of Russian rubles need only to have their bills exchanged for American money and be assigned to learn the language and communicate with friends and relatives in the United States. Others have been able to get work at their own professions and a few have done so well that they have sent to Russia for relatives.

These young men are now arriving in Seattle at the rate of one hundred a month. One hundred and fifty are said, are now in Japan seeking passage to the United States.

Abraham Spring, an attorney who is directing the work of the immigration society, in speaking of the immigrants said: "This immigration is the most remarkable and the most valuable that has ever come to America. These immigrants are the first to come to our shores by way of Asia. They are in perfect health, highly educated and intend to become American citizens. This society wishes the immigrants not to gather in one quarter of the city, and we located our new home away from the Jewish settlement that has lately grown up here."

This morning the marriage of Miss Mayme Fitzgerald of East Delavan and Harold Williamson of this city took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. St. Patrick's church, Blkhor. Rev. Father Fisher performed the ceremony.

The young couple were attended by Miss Reta Williamson and Matt Fitzgerald. They took the early morning train for Waukegan to visit relatives. Upon returning they will go to housekeeping on the George Suesmich place near Lake Lawn.

Mrs. Charles Quinn spent a portion of the first of the week with her sisters in Milwaukee.

Friends of the late Mrs. Hugo Pfabe, a former resident here, were grieved to hear of her death May 12 at Canthage, Mo., where she had gone a few months ago in the hope of benefiting her health. She leaves besides her husband one daughter, Mrs. Mort Sheaver, who with her husband and child had gone to Canthage a few weeks ago and was with her mother when she died. The funeral took place at Canthage Monday morning.

D. M. Duggan returned from a trip to Milwaukee, Monday evening.

Frank Keegan, who has been spending a couple of weeks at home, departed this morning for South Bend, Ind. to resume his work with the Stephenson Underwear company.

Joseph Cahill was at home over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Humphrey drove to Beloit, Sunday, to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Reader and son, J. J., spent Sunday with Mrs. Van Sturtevant and family in Lima, returning home by Whitewater.

The "Mysterious Conductor" and "Young Willowby" who were the wrestling stars at the opera house, Monday evening, proved a tie. The bout continued for two hours and fifteen minutes when the referee called a draw, neither man being able to get a fall. In the preliminaries Morris bested McCarthy in two straight falls and Wickens of Watworth got the first two falls on Woerner of Delavan. A crowded house greeted the performers. The "Mysterious Conductor" and Willowby took the morning train for their homes in Chicago.

Miss Luella Webster spent Sunday in Milwaukee with friends.

Mrs. John Soddors called on friends in Darien, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nelson of South Second street were in Darien last evening with friends.

Henry Cornish, the notice of whose death appeared in this paper yesterday, was a cousin of the late President Garfield, their mothers being sisters.

The Ford car stolen from the sheds of the Congregational church, Saturday night, was found by the owner, John Koehsel, in front of his home, Sunday morning. The perpetrators of the theft are said to be local men.

Miss Salisbury, who addressed the parent and teachers meeting in the Delavan high school rooms Monday evening, held the attention of her audience throughout the talk, her subject being illustrated by slides, which depicted the evils of the disease, and in families, especially in the city, where sickness prevails, and is sometimes brought on by improper care, and the great relief that is brought to many of these homes by the visiting nurse, who not only cares for those afflicted, but helps to instruct those in charge of the patient.

Her discourse and clear convictions of the amount of prevention of these more common cases, by the visits of those nurses in the homes, and especially in the school room, made a deep impression on her hearers and the establishing of a visiting nurse for Delavan will no doubt be a possibility in the future.

Two immense electric light lamps have been placed the past week in front of the post office on either side of the entrance.

The Ohio club met with Mrs. Chas. Barker at her lake home last Saturday afternoon.

Miss Helen Chesbrough is the first, we think, to produce home-grown corn, making her first large delivery today.

Hecht, Miss Mabel Lundin, Miss Ellen Gustafson, Mrs. A. Erickson, Mrs. M. Thybony, Miss Anna M. Thybony, Miss Eunice Thybony, Baby Billy Thybony, George Veera, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Magnuson, Mrs. S. P. Norman, Miss Mabel A. Norman, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lundin, and Miss Mary A. Lundin, all of Chicago. From Milwaukee there were Mr. and Mrs. H. Freitag, Fred, Walter, Irving, Carl and Marie Freitag, Mrs. A. Maleske, Mrs. Dierks, from Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. A. Beer; from Sycamore, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. A. Olson, Earl Olson, Mrs. Wilson, Earl Wilson and Miss Pearl Wilson. Besides the immediate family, Delavan guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Pfeffer and daughter, Agnes; Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Fey, John Lavine, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Miller and daughter, Eleanor, and William Gast.

Edgerton News

Edgerton, May 24.—The Edgerton Cornet band have secured the services of Chas. Leaver of Beloit to direct them during the summer. Mr. Leaver is an experienced band master and also an orchestra man. The boys are fortunate to secure Mr. Leaver's services which will assure the Edgerton music lovers of a series of concerts the coming summer. Several new members have been added to the band and will give Edgerton one of the best bands in this section of the state. The boys will make their first appearance on Decoration day when they will lead the procession to the cemetery.

The Rock County convention of the W. C. T. U. held at Beloit yesterday attracted about twenty of the local members. The trip to Beloit was made with automobiles and the ladies reported a very enjoyable time. All of the towns in the county sent delegations to the convention and about seventy members were in attendance. The meeting was held at the Salvation Army barracks and was called to order by their president, Mrs. W. Dickinson of this city. The following Edgerton people appeared on the program: Miss Lila Gifford gave a reading, Mrs. M. Schmidt sang a solo and Miss Lorane Dickinson and Valdo Ellingson read their prize essays on temperance which won the first prize at the contest that was held recently at the school. The ladies were entertained by the Beloit ladies for dinner and supper and returned to Edgerton early in the evening.

REMARKABLE INCREASE IN JAVA TEA EXPORTS.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Batavia, Dutch East Indies, May 24.—A striking increase is shown in the exports of Java tea during the past year. They attained the record figure of 92,000,000 half kilograms, as compared with 65,000,000 in 1914. The island has become a dangerous competitor of the British Far Eastern colonies for the Russian market.

Prices remained on a high level throughout the year. The value in Java of the total exports is about $14,720,000.

BROOKLYN BRIDGE NETS CITY LARGE REVENUE IN THIRTY THREE YEARS.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
New York, May 24.—Brooklyn Bridge is 33 years old today. It has brought the city about $25,000,000 worth of revenue in nickels in that time. Since other bridges like it have been opened, the revenue has not been so great. There are now so many bridges like Brooklyn Bridge that it has to be singled out for the curious stranger in New York.

ALFALFA CAMPAIGN HELD ON YESTERDAY GREATEST IN STATE

L. F. GRABER OF MADISON DESCRIBES DAY AS MOST ENTHUSIASTIC EVER HELD IN WISCONSIN.

SOIL RIGHT FOR CROP

Demonstration Shows Rock County Farms Can Successfully Grow the Forage—Visit Eight Farms.

"The greatest and best demonstration of its kind ever held in Wisconsin," was the statement of L. F. Graber, Madison, secretary of the Wisconsin Alfalfa Order, in describing the alfalfa campaign held yesterday in Rock county when twenty-three automobile loads of interested farmers and business men crisscrossed the county after six o'clock last evening.

Mr. Graber was highly elated with the results of the day's work and with the enthusiasm shown by the farmers. "I have been present on a great number of trips and campaigns of like nature but never before in the state have I seen so many farmers taking such an interest in alfalfa as they did today," was his comment. "Every man who went on the trip is to be commended. No doubt many of them delayed important farm work a day to be present and learn something regarding the crop which they have heard and read much about before. I hope that we have satisfied them in every particular. That was our purpose and the farmers readily agreed that they were not backward in asking questions and opening an argument if some explanation did not seem plausible to them."

The fields Mr. Markham selected for our experiments were excellent examples of just the points we wished to bring out. I am sure that we have satisfactorily demonstrated that Rock county contains the most fertile soil in seven fields we visited in the demonstration. The party was shown that alfalfa had been successfully grown here without either inoculation or liming. This in itself breaks down a common objection and belief that the soil of Rock county contains too much acid and is too heavy and sour for the crop. In remaining three fields it was shown how could be grown with lime and inoculation. From the results shown yesterday I think Rock county farmers should realize that there is absolutely no reason why alfalfa cannot be successfully cultivated here. In the party which left here yesterday morning there were twenty-one Janesville cars and four from Beloit. Three additional machines loaded with interested farmers joined the party enroute. At Clinton where the party stopped for dinner the party demonstrated real farm hand appetites. They consumed practically every eatable in the village. The alfalfa seed accumulations had been engaged for but a hundred, but the excess had reached nearly forty when the campaigners drew up at the village.

Leaving Janesville, the party took the Milwaukee road to the E. H. Henke farm, about four miles east of the city. The fields here were as though nature had specially prepared them for alfalfa. In fact they are as fine, natural alfalfa plots as could be desired. They are on the southern slope of Mt. Zion, a limestone hill, and the fine subsoil the crops thrive wonderfully. Station was made of the sweet clover growing along the roadway, and the blowing fieldward of the limestone dust from the highway, which helped greatly in the growing of the crop. Mr. Henke has cultivated alfalfa for the past six years and has had excellent results to show for his experiments. There were new fields which had not been under cultivation for so long a time and here the party was shown the effects of too late cutting and winter killing.

Four miles further on the farm of J. R. Hadden was brought to the attention of the party. Mr. Hadden is just off Rock County and has a alfalfa crop on a south slope and rolling ground. This was an old field and from its outlines proved up a hundred pounds of lime to each ton of alfalfa, the subsoil of the Henke farm, being limestone.

Near Emerald Grove the Buess brothers' field was inspected. At the party was shown the alfalfa seed, what is called in the United States, "Grimm seed." Grimm is a German who emigrated to northern Minnesota about 1880, and he and his wife and sons have thrived wonderfully in the north, even with the hard winters. Attention of farmers was attracted to the fact that the seed was from sixty cents to a dollar per pound, far higher than the ordinary alfalfa seed. The demand exceeds the output but it is expected that with greater cultivation of the fields which have been used that the price will lower considerably in the next few years.

Some time ago Mr. Graber purchased, at a considerable price, one hundred pounds of the Grimm seed. He distributed it to five points to Wisconsin farmers. A couple Rock county men secured an allotment.

Of forty plots cultivated at the University of Wisconsin experimental station, but several of them with Grimm seed, withstood the winter with winter, demonstrating the hardy nature of this particular seed.

While the fields of the C. J. Purset farm were good, they showed need of lime to stimulate a predominating sourness of the soil. Mr. Purset had good crop, but future cuttings can be improved through the use of lime. It was brought out by Mr. Graber.

After inspecting the fields at E. L. Benedict's place, an interesting discussion was had on the cutting, curing, caring and shedding of the crop. Mr. Graber advised an early morning cutting, letting the alfalfa lie on the ground until afternoon, then covering with the hay caps. If necessary, and if weather conditions permit, it could be left on the ground to cure for at least a week before being baled. Mr. Benedict's ideas here by some of the farmers and it was explained that conditions had a great deal to do with the handling of each particular crop and after it had been cut, it was better to leave it on the ground for a week or more before being baled.

The W. J. Dougan farm was the last visited. Mr. Dougan had a number of experimental plots and was very interested in the alfalfa seed. The first plot showed ground limed and inoculated and ready for seeding. A seeding machine was used to sow the seed. A third experimental plot was alfalfa planted for two or three years, showed the results of the use of different kinds of commercial fertilizer. An old field affected by winter killing was also visited.

Mr. Graber stated that, quack grass and blue grass were the only weeds that would kill the worst Canadian thistles in from two to three years' time. Other weeds will also die in alfalfa fields providing the crop is given the advantage through care.

Alfalfa grows so rapidly that even in this climate three cuttings are possible each season unless the first crop is harvested at too late a date and this gives possibilities of winter killing. Final cutting, Mr. Graber said, should not be later than the first week of September. Farmers planning to sow before the first of August so as to secure a growth of from six to eight inches to eliminate all winter killing danger.

And farmers desiring to know more about alfalfa, soil preparation, cultivation, etc., can secure the same by acquiring of Mr. Graber. A letter addressed to him in care of the department of agriculture at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, will be readily answered.

LOWER LICENSE FEE IN DOG ORDINANCE

ORDINANCE IS AMENDED BY CITY COUNCIL AT MEETING HELD ON TUESDAY.

REDUCE IT ONE HALF

Water Reports Made by Department Showing Earnings for Nine Months—Revised Franklin Street Paving Order.

Janesville's dog ordinance was amended by the city council at their meeting held Tuesday afternoon, when the demand of the public has been met, the license amount now being one and two dollars. Instead of two and four dollars. The council also took action and amended the ordinance, eliminating unfavorable provisions in that legislation.

The report of the water works department for the period ending March 31st, was put before the council and filed. This report is for a period of nine months, and shows clearly the financial condition of the plant. Today the city officials received the report of the state railroad commission, which is very extensive and complete, showing certain features for the reduction of net water rates as proposed by the board of public works.

Water Works Report.

In the ninth months' time the operating revenue of the water department amounted to $38,024. The operating expense $18,710.77, leaving a net operating revenue of $24,373.33. The non-operating revenue amounted to $24,373.33. The amount deducted for interest on the bonded debt fund was $9,832.81. The amount appropriated to the municipal funds for extension work and construction was $65,000, leaving a surplus of $11,890.51. The items of operating expenses contained taxes, $1,992.33 and depreciation, $3,372.33. The total surplus for one year, under the new ordinance, was $10,347.61, after all expenses had been taken out and the amount due on the bonds taken care of.

The dog ordinance was amended to make the license for male and female dogs one dollar and half and spayed dogs two dollars. Any dog above four months of age must be licensed. Except on daily license holders, four months of age, shall be permitted to run at large, and the police have the power to impound any dog that is not so licensed.

Suspend the Rules.

The rules were suspended by the council and the ordinance passed immediately before the council desiring that the new license ordinance be in effect before the new ordinance is published in full within a few days' time. With the lowering of the license fee, the police department is authorized to use their full powers to see that the ordinance will be uniformly enforced.

The amendment to the ordinance was amended so as to fix a new license fee for the different sizes of dogs. This ordinance was only given its first and second reading and will be brought up to weeks later. Under the new provision each dog owner, using twenty-five cars or less, or less, will be taxed fifty dollars per day. A traveling exhibition using more than twenty-five cars will be taxed fifty cents in advance and those using over fifty cars, the license will be one hundred. Under the old ordinance any show charging fifty cents in advance was taxed one hundred dollars and those charging from twenty-five to fifty cents were taxed twenty-five dollars, and under twenty-five cents, the minor exhibitions were taxed ten cents per day.

A committee composed of the mayor, council and city clerk, was formed to sit on a board to adjust any situations or conditions that might arise over the provisions of the proposed ordinance.

The specifications for the asphalt-macadam paving on Oakland avenue and Forest Park boulevard were approved and so that the board of public works is given final decision over the selection of the asphalt to be used by the contractor in the construction of the work.

It is stated in the specifications that asphalt shall be of the natural lake asphalt and the equal of the natural asphalt can be used in its place. The board can use their judgment in selecting the brand on which the asphalt produced.

The plans for the sewer, water and gas service pipes, from the mains to the curb lines on Oakland avenue and Forest Park boulevard, were approved and ordered to be let to the lowest bidder.

The plans for the sewer, water and gas service pipes, from the mains to the curb lines on Oakland avenue and Forest Park boulevard, were approved and ordered to be let to the lowest bidder.

The bills for the past two weeks amounting to $2,486.44, were allowed and orders drawn for the amounts.

The salary orders for the month of May were allowed and orders drawn for the amounts.

The bonds of B. V. Crossman for the construction of sidewalks as ordered by the city were found in due form and the Gazette Printing company, for the publication of city matters, were also approved.

The Rock County Telephone company was granted permission to erect a garage in the moving from the old building in accordance to the city building ordinances.

Rescinding Paving Order.

Jackson street from Gales to Western avenue was ordered to be repaved. The drinking fountain on Caroline and Glen streets was ordered repaired.

The owners of lot seven and eight, on South street, and lot 28 on Holmes street, Doe addition, were ordered improved by the construction of standard sidewalks.

The paving order for putting a brick pavement on South street, was rescinded, ending the paving controversy that has lasted two years. Next year paving with some of the other pavement, and not plain macadam.

Y. M. C. A. TALENT ARE IN CONCERT TONIGHT

Men's Chorus to Appear Before Public for First Time This Evening.

The concert which is to be held at the Young Men's Christian association this evening will be the first event of this kind ever held in the gymnasium, and it is expected that the acoustic properties will add much to the quality of the music as compared with those in the dining room where such affairs have usually been held. There is ample seating capacity and a stage has been erected and curtains and it is expected that a large number of persons will attend.

The program which will be presented is:

"The Song of the Vikings".....Fanning Chorus.

Selected.....Flute and Piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuehling.

"I cannot sing the old songs".....Parks Quartet.

(a) "Welcome, Sweet Springtime".....Mendelssohn.

(b) "From the Land of the Sky-blue Water".....Cadman.

Ladies' Quartet.

"Excelsior".....(Balfie) Nevlin Chorus.

Intermission: Eight minutes of last Victrola hits.

"The Invictus".....Bruno Huhn Chorus.

"The Dumb Musicians".....A "stunt" Messrs. F. and Lueck.

"Good Night".....Buck Quartet.

Y. M. C. A. concert tonight.

PIANO RECITAL IS MOST DELIGHTFUL

Miss Wilma Marie Jones Entertained Large Audience at Milton Tuesday Evening.

At the residence of Miss Alberta Crandall, teacher of music at Milton College, in the village of Milton, Tuesday evening, Miss Wilma Marie Jones, wife of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Jones of this city, gave a most delightful and finished piano recital. Miss Jones is to graduate from the School of Music of Milton College June 12th, having completed her three-year course of study there with much credit. Four automobile loads of friends from Janesville attended the concert and returned late last night. The following is the program rendered:

Beethoven, from 6th Suite for Cello.

Bach.

Bercesse.....Delbruck.

Morceau Caracteristique, Op. 22.....Wollenhaupt.

Valse Mignonne, Op. 16, No. 2.....Schuetz.

"The Dumb Musicians".....Schumann.

Nachstücke, Op. 23, No. 1.....Schumann.

Song Without Words, No. 28.....Mendelssohn.

Mazurka, G. Sharp Minor.....Jones.

The Butterfly.....Lavalade.

Bercesse, from Opera Jocelyn Godard.

Barcarolle.....Bendel.

Y. M. C. A. concert tonight.

DRAMATIC CLUB DINNER LAST EVENING AT TEA BELL

The Dramatic club gave a dinner on Tuesday evening at seven o'clock at the Tea Bell. The dinner was served in four courses. The decorations were red carnations, tulips and white lilies. Covers were laid for twenty-four. Miss Belle MacLean, wife of Mr. J. H. Jones, was toastmistress. She gave a toast to the Dramatic club of the past. The Rev. Hoffmeister responded with "The Dramatic Club of the Future."

Miss Leora Westlake gave a total dedication to the men of the club. Officers for the new year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. W. A. Munn; Vice President, Miss Jacobson; Secretary, Miss Erna Tonn; Treasurer, Miss Mable Greenman. The affair was much enjoyed and proved a most interesting closing of the year's work.

Ladies free at the game Sunday.

TWO JANEVILLE GIRLS JOIN BELOIT SORORITIES.

Miss Eulalia Drew and Miss Mildred Clark, both of Janesville, who are freshmen at Beloit college, have been elected to the Beloit sororities for the spring rushing season. Miss Drew was a member of Chi Epsilon and Miss Clark of Delta Psi Delta at the coming initiations.

Y. M. C. A. concert tonight.

Notice Change: The Woman's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church will meet with Mrs. S. M. Smith on Milwaukee avenue on Friday evening instead of at Mrs. A. P. Lovejoy's as was announced in last evening's paper.

The Presbyterian church of the future will also be given. A full attendance is desired.

Y. M. C. A. concert tonight.

General John F. Reynolds Circle No. 41, Ladies of the G. A. R., will have a memorial service on Friday evening, May 26, at Caledonian Hall. All patriotic societies will be welcome. Rev. Brigham, J. F. Carle, Carl Buchholz, Rev. Bearmore will assist. Full details will be given later.

TAMING THE UNTAMED GIANT OF THE AGES.

Electricity Defied by Ajax Now Harnessed to Operate Milwaukee Trains Over the Rockies.

The myth of Ajax's defiance of Jove's lightning was the expression for three thousand years of the world's opinion of electricity.

Then suddenly in a few decades, the terror of the ages was seen to be the most beneficent and most powerful servant of man.

Its transcendent value to the race is nowhere better exemplified than in the electrification of the "Milwaukee Road" for 440 miles from Harlowton, Montana, to Avery, Idaho. From the plunging mountain waterfalls, it is taken and sent along the wires to the light electric locomotives that haul the mighty trains of "The Olympian" and "The Colossal" and the long heavily loaded freight trains over the mile-high ramparts of the Great Continental Divide. Whether to carry tonnage or to yield the traveler the comforts of smooth, clean travel, its enormous power, in winter and in summer, is wholly at man's service.

To the supreme travel qualities of the "Milwaukee"—a splendid roadbed—luxurious equipment—magnificent scenery—accessibility to several of the National Parks and the renowned service of the employees—is now added the delights of electric travel through the very heart of the mountains.

Take the "Milwaukee" on your next trip to the Pacific North Coast.

FOODS THEY BUILD OR DESTROY

Amazing but rarely suspected truths about the things you eat.

By ALFRED W. McCANN (Copyright, 1916, by Alfred W. McCann.)

CHAPTER 62.

Notwithstanding its significance, the Kronprinz Wilhelm episode was lost to the archives of scientific data, although, at the same hour, Dr. Joseph Goldberger of the hygienic laboratory was working on another poison squad experiment designed to disclose the results that follow a demineralized diet of the same nature.

Through the efforts of Congressman Walter M. Chandler, the facts as reported here concerning the disorder suffered by the Kaiser's unfortunate men and the extraordinary effect upon them following a diet of base-forming foods, were laid before Surgeon-General Blue at his headquarters in Washington.

Dr. Blue referred them in turn to Dr. Arthur H. Glennan, acting surgeon-general, and Dr. J. W. Kerr, chief of the research laboratory.

Drs. Glennan and Kerr grasped the situation instantly and, considering an entire morning scrutinizing the facts, the magnitude and significance of the incident were obvious. The general bearing on the welfare of millions of growing children in America, who rely with profound confidence on the wholly inadequate foods which have so frequently referred to by experts as "vitaminic."

Their minds were open. Their attitude receptive. They realized that perhaps they really were on the verge of a newer and wider outlook upon the sadly neglected field of food research.

In minute detail they reviewed the work of Drs. H. C. Sherman and J. E. Edw. Sinclair, reported as far back as 1907 from the Havemeyer laboratories, Columbia university, in connection with those foods that contain an excess of acid-forming elements, as compared with other foods containing an excess of base-forming elements, or alkaline ash.

They also manifested keen interest in the work reported in 1912 by Drs. H. C. Sherman and A. O. Gettler, from the same laboratories, on the same subject.

They noted the conspicuous fact that the history of the German seamen the base-forming diet, distinct from absent, fresh meat, white flour bread and crackers, boiled potatoes, butter, lard and sugar being almost totally deficient in this indispensable element.

The noteworthy fact that Sherman and Gettler's research reveals nearly every one of the foods on which the Germans subsisted for 225 days to be of the type that contains an excess of acid-forming elements and a deficiency of alkaline ash, was received with unmistakable interest.

The fact that the Germans responded almost instantly to a diet rich in alkaline ash was obviously significant.

That forty-seven men should be dismissed from the ship's hospital within a period of eight days following the ingestion of fresh vegetables, soup, potato-skin liquor, wheat bran, whole wheat bread, egg yolks, fresh unskimmed milk, orange juice and apples, was worthy of notice.

The fact that no eggs were administered and that all fat, egg albumen, cheese meat, white flour and sugar were withdrawn from the crew's diet was worthy of notice.

The fact that conflicting stories had already begun to appear in the American press concerning the kind of food consumed by the Germans was also worthy of notice.

An investigation, now, reported the authorities, "all depends upon the courtesy of the German government in permitting us the privilege of making an extended study of the situation. We cannot, of course, invade the ship and would not dream of doing so if we could. Doubtless a request from the secretary of the treasury to this department to study the situation would be followed by the permission of the commander of the vessel to our men to probe the facts."

As far as now known the facts were never probed and the greatest object lesson of its kind which history has thus far afforded was lost to the archives of scientific data.

However, Dr. Joseph Goldberger of the hygienic laboratory did not remain idle, and in another direction he has succeeded in proving, through his work with another poison squad, the disastrous results that follow a demineralized, if not the same kind of diet as that which crippled the sailors of the converted cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm.

Perhaps, who knows? the hints obtained by Dr. Goldberger on his dying visit to the sick ship, April 15, 1915, when 120 cases were reported aboard, are destined in some indirect way to influence the nation's return to the many nutritious and delicious old-fashioned foods which have so long been abandoned as the mainstay in the diet of the American people, such as whole white bread, muffins, whole wheat flour and spice cake, whole wheat waffles, whole wheat girdle cakes, whole wheat gravies, sauces and poultry dressings, undergarment white and yellow corn bread, porridge, fried mush served with genuine maple syrup, old-fashioned molasses, pure, unadorned natural brown rice, with all its nut-like flavor, served as a vegetable or in the form of pudding, whole unpeeled barley, whole, unboltheaded, unrefined rye, whole unextended buckwheat, and a great variety of whole, unadorned, freshly milled breakfast foods which long since have been replaced by the degenerated, denuded, demineralized, processed, sifted, bolted, bleached and refined breakfast stuffs now on the market.

QUESTIONS ABOUT FOOD

Answered by Alfred W. McCann.

Q.—Will you please publish lists of acid-forming and alkaline foods? Does wheaten wheat contain all the natural mineral salts? P. H. P.

A.—The chief acid-yielding foods are meat, fish, egg whites, and refined starches and sugars. The base-yielding foods are milk, all succulent vegetables and fruits. Shredded wheat does not contain the greater part of the natural mineral salts.

Q.—Why is red meat presumed to be more acid-forming than white meat? JOHN O'D.

A.—Red meat is presumed to be more acid-forming than white meat solely because the human race is prone to presumption.

In Salem they presumed that Mrs. O'Flaherty had cast an evil eye upon her neighbor's pigs, and so they charged her with witchcraft and burned her at the stake. Had her name been Hathaway or Fenwayson, a committee of citizens might have invited her to establish an institute of ethical culture for the purpose of radiating supernormal vibrations to the end that society might advance in the ways of progress, uplift, and gait-bunkus.

Q.—Please answer the following in your food column:

1. What fruits contain acid?
2. What fruits do not contain acid?

There are no fruits which are entirely free from acids. However, this does not mean that the fruit eater is in any danger of acquiring acidosis. On the contrary, he is the least exposed to it.

The acids in fruits as well as vegetables are in the form of acid salts. They exist in combinations with such bases as sodium, potassium, calcium, and magnesium. When the acids are burned up by digestion the acid portion is destroyed, while the bases are left behind to carry on the valuable work of neutralizing the harmful acid products of the body.

While fruits contain feeble acids in abundance they are ultimately base-yielding.

Q.—I am deeply impressed in your pure food column in the Gazette, I receive my milk supply from a neighbor who keeps cows. It is warm when I receive it in the evening. I test the milk with a Marvel milk tester (which states it is according to New York board of health) and it proves about 20 per cent water. The following day I test the same milk and it shows 10 per cent pure, but when pouring from bottle into glass the surface remains all bubbles. Is it pure milk? K. J. P.

A.—I cannot tell you the reason for the discrepancy between the two tests which you performed on the same sample without examining the instrument and having precise knowledge of your procedure. The formation of lasting bubbles on the surface of the milk is due to the viscosity of the cream. The presence of a large number of these and their persistence for a long time would serve to indicate that the milk is rich in fat.

INTERESTING INFORMATION ABOUT THEM SUPPLIED BY THE BUREAU OF BIOLOGICAL SURVEY OF THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

COMMON AMERICAN BIRDS

INTERESTING INFORMATION ABOUT THEM SUPPLIED BY THE BUREAU OF BIOLOGICAL SURVEY OF THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

ROBIN (Pinnaculus migratorius)

Length, ten inches.

Range: Breeds in the United States (except the Gulf states), Canada, Alaska and Mexico; winters in most of the United States and south to Guatemala.

Habits and economic status: In the North and some parts of the West the robin is among the most cherished of our native birds. Should it ever become rare where now common, its joyous summer song and familiar presence will be sadly missed in many a homestead. The robin is an omnivorous feeder, and its food includes many orders of insects, with no very pronounced preference for any. It is very fond of earthworms, but its real economic status is determined by the vegetable food, which amounts to about 58 per cent of all. The principal item is fruit, which forms more than 51 per cent of the total food. The fact that in the examination of over 1,200 stomachs the percentage of wild fruit was found to be five times that of the cultivated varieties suggests that berry-bearing shrubs, if planted near the orchard, will serve to protect more valuable fruits. In California in certain years it has been possible to save the olive crop from hungry robins only by the most strenuous exertions and considerable expense. The bird's general usefulness is such, however, that all reasonable means of protecting orchard fruit should be tried before killing the birds.

Charlotte Mineau, a popular member of the cast in Bordeaux, France, and educated at the Convent of the Sacred Heart, in Paris. Miss Mineau entered picture work about five years ago. She is a Titian-haired beauty, possessed of an abundance of talent. She is barely twenty-two years of age, and has ambitions to some day shine as a Broadway dramatic star. She appears in an important role in "The Floorwalker."

"THE FIREMAN." CHAPLIN'S NEXT

Work on "The Fireman," has been completed, and the comedy will be released the middle of June. Worked into this production are a number of unusually sensational scenes, depicting the burning of two houses, both of which had been condemned by the Los Angeles fire department. For the filming of "The Fireman," the comedian temporarily abandoned his usual screen make-up and in practically all the scenes he appears in the garb of a fireman, which, to say the least, is one of the most excruciatingly funny garbs of its kind ever witnessed on the screen. His antics on the fire pole, used by the firemen in sliding from the dormitory to the main floor at the alarm signal, furnishes an avalanche of laughs, the comedian outdoing by far any of his previous attempts along this particular line.

CHANGES COSTUMES EIGHTEEN TIMES

Myrtle Stedman, starred in the subject, "The American Beauty," has been having unusual trials and tribulations. Miss Stedman appears in three parts—a girl in her teens, when she is grown up, and also in the part of the mother. The three parts caused a change of costume and set changes eighteen times in one day, and then it was learned that the camera made it necessary to retake all scenes the following day.

Virginia Pearson's press agent has been writing recipes for the film faithful who seek her advice on things pertaining to beauty and culinary accomplishments. The other night, having nothing else to do, she made a dish according to "her own."

Clara Kimball Young on Friday. The peerless Clara Kimball Young, beloved of motion picture patrons throughout the world, will make her next appearance at the Apollo on Friday in "The Yellow Passport," a tremendous five-reel drama produced by the World Film production.

Beginning with a terrific Jewish massacre by the "Black Hundred" at Kiev, Russia, this notable picture builds scene upon scene of intense and appealing drama reaching its great climax amid the luxurious settings of a New York mansion. The story gets its title from the kind of passport issued by the Russian police to women of the town and it is through obtaining such a passport to protect herself against her enemies, that the heroine of the story is brought face to face with so many big situations.

"The Ne'er-Do-Well" Starts Tonight. While the moving picture version of Rex Beach's "The Ne'er-Do-Well" is not a story of the construction of the canal nor a scenic picture, it pertains to digress a way through the jungles of officialdom on the isthmus for the passage of a motion picture company which was commissioned to produce the first motion picture play ever enacted in Central America.

When the Selig Polyscope company set out to film "The Ne'er-Do-Well," by Rex Beach, author of "The Spoilers," "Silver Horde," and other novels, W. N. Selig decided that in order to get the real atmosphere described in the book it would be necessary to send his company of players to Panama.

This was done and after remaining there for six months the company

The production is full of action throughout, and although it takes two and one-half hours to run, one incident follows another, and the interest is unusual and sustained throughout. The picture will be shown at the Beverly theatre for two days, starting today.

NEW OPEN AIR THEATRE TO BE TRIED ON FRIDAY

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Madison, May 24.—A new open-air theatre behind University Hall will be inaugurated by the production of the "Two Gentlemen of Verona" on Friday evening of this week at eight o'clock, under the auspices of the University of Wisconsin. Members of the faculty and students will comprise the cast for the Shakespearean performance, which is to be put on even in the Shakespearean celebration to be held in this city.

The new open-air theatre is the result of five years of agitation and collection of funds. The stage is forty by sixty feet and is made of dirt and sodded. Two huge trees in the foreground and shrubbery bushes will mark the boundaries of the stage. Footlight will be thrown out from the bushes, forming a delightful appearance. From one to five thousand persons will be accommodated.

According to a Boston critic the Red Sox have been losing games because Duffy Lewis is no center fielder. Duffy showed up poorly that he was shifted to left and Tilly Walker moved over to center.

FIRST CLASS DRAMA IN "THE TRAITOR"

The Sherman Kelly Stock Co. Appeared for the Second Time at the Myera Theatre With Drama Full of Gripping Interest.

The Sherman Kelly Stock company came out in their second appearance at the Myers with a mighty interesting drama of political life. "The Traitor" is the piece went by, dealt with a certain young district attorney's fight against a strong cordon of political bosses, with the interests of the people and the winning of a girl at stake. Of course he outwitted the crooked politicians, won his reelection and the girl in the usual story way, but the situations arising in the development of the plot, gave ample opportunity for many flashes of dramatic eloquence.

Mr. Kelly put himself a little in the background last night and let Harry Oaks, in the role of the district attorney, step to the front, which he did in a very creditable manner. Fred Armstrong made an ideal Tammany Hall boss, and even not for one minute did he let his Banker Specials go out, even when he was at the height of his splurges of anger. The Le Grande Sisters again refreshingly delighted in their little specialties "between acts."

Tonight a musical comedy "The Innocent Thief," will be presented at the Myers.

John McGraw's fifteen year old recruit, Waite Hoyt, has been heard from. The youngster signed last year and now sixteen years of age, has been transferred to the Lebaton team of the Pennsylvania state league, where he will be developed for future use. Hoyt is a Brooklyn high school boy and according to all the wise men who have seen him is destined to be another Nat. Already he has pitched two no-hit high school games this spring.

Heart and Home PROBLEMS

—By—
MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON
Letters may be addressed to
MRS. THOMPSON
in care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a widow twenty-eight years old with one child, a little boy of two years. I find it hard to work where there is a family of children and keep my home with me. Last winter I went to work for a widower who has two sons. One is a child for respect and the other is a boy of fourteen. These boys treat me as though I am not as good as they are because I have to work for my living. When their father introduced me to them, they ignored me and didn't as much as speak my name. I don't blame any child for respecting his mother, but I am not trying to take her place. I wouldn't be a mother if I could, because I am very kind people. The man treats me with respect. I am not of the same nationality that they are and they continually stir me about my nationality. Would you advise me to stay here or would you look elsewhere for employment? Is it improper for a widow to work in a widower's home?

There will be drawbacks wherever you go and it would probably be difficult to find another place where you could keep your child. The boys will not be so respectful in your introduction to you and they are also rude to talk about your nationality. I fear in mind that you are not one of the family and must not expect to be treated as such. You receive pay for your service to them and are permitted to keep your little boy. Things might be a great deal worse. It is all right for you to work in the family of a widower who has a good character and reputation.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: We are two girls eleven and thirteen years old. We are going to go to parties and hide with boys.

(2) If one of us should go to a girl's house to stay all night and her brother comes to take her to a show, is it proper for the girl's brother to take her?

(3) Should we let boys walk home with us from church when others are alone?

(1) If you play hide and seek at a party it is all right to hide with boys of the same age?

(2) A girl of eleven or thirteen should not go to a show at night with another girl and boys.

(3) It is all right for them to walk home with you.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) When passing on the street who should speak first, the boy or the girl?

(2) Is it proper for girls of thirteen to go to dancing school with boys of the same age?

(3) What will remove freckles?

(1) The girl. Usually the boy speaks at the same time the girl does, if he knows her well.

(2) It is proper for them to go to afternoon dancing school.

(3) The constant use of butter-milk as a wash is recommended for freckles. It is softening and bleaching. Fresh horseradish, grated, adds potency to the application. A tablespoonful of the root is put into half a pint of milk, the two covered, to stand for twelve hours. After that it is strained and applied as a bleach, to dry on.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I would like to know of a dry shampoo. I thinkorris root is an article contained in it.

(2) What will clean wallpaper?

(3) Can you tell me of anything to use on extremely dry lips?

Get wall paper cleaner at your grocery store.

(3) Camphor ice is splendid for dry lips.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Can you suggest something that will remove gum from a serge suit? I have tried everything I can think of, but it only makes it worse.

Try benzene.

The skilled servants who know their work and prefer to keep it fit in and out of position, to the great benefit of employment agencies and to the despair of all who employ them.

A month in a private hotel brings its circle of tips and they are really capable demand their "pound a week and all found." Those who are useless are employed for a few weeks and then their ignorance of household work are soon discovered.

In their despair employers of domestic servants are turning to old and ineligible ones or hot.

All manner of innovations are creeping into the staid English ways. Large breakfasts and late dinners are disappearing. Before the war is over, remarked an Englishman, "we shall all clean our own boots like the American, eat breakfast rolls like a Frenchman and dine in cafes like a citizen of Europe."

Household Hints

TO CANDY FRUITS, VIOLETS, ETC. Fondant for Candying—One cup granulated sugar, one-half cup boiling water. Use granite or agate sauce pan and a swab or paint brush to handle six inches long. To make make swab, tie a small piece of sponge or linen cloth securely to a stick about six inches long; have wet, but not dripping, and wipe sugar off sides of pan as the syrup balls. If the sugar is allowed to drop in the syrup it will cause it to granulate.

Drop ingredients into water, when dropped in a glass of cold water, it will form a ball between your fingers. Do not stir until the sugar is dissolved thoroughly.

When your syrup has been tested and is cooked enough, remove pan from stove very carefully and put in shallow baking dish. Be sure not to jar it until fondant is cool enough to knead. Then remove from dish and knead on bread board sprinkled with confectioner's sugar. Dip your hands in this sugar, too. Knead until creamy white and solid, roll in several waxed papers and place in either a can with cover or glass jar with cover.

Violets—Have violets dried, but not crisp. When you pick them place them on papers or a clean board to dry. To hasten them, place in a warm oven for ten minutes (the sure oven is not hot), then place in a cool oven for ten minutes. When you are ready to candy them, put one cup of fondant in sauce pan and three cups of lemon juice, place over kettle of boiling water (double boiler if possible). When fondant has melted to right consistency dip violets, holding by stem, and place in bowl of cold water. Dip each violet in box. This will make one to one and a half pounds, according to dipping.

This recipe can be used for rose leaves, mint leaves, etc. It is best to make fondant from one to two days ahead of time.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING. Have a half-dozen holders made of tin or pieces of wood where they will be handy to the cook stove. They are very useful to lift hot kettles and lids and can you make them from pieces you would otherwise put in the rag-bag. Make six by six inches, sextuple, stitch around edges and across.

Boys' Blouses and Men's Shirts—When worn at the neck and sleeve bands, make ideal camp or play blouses and shirts by lowering the neck and shortening the sleeves and hemming them.

THE TABLE. Muffins—Two cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one-half cup sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, one egg, four tablespoons melted butter, three-fourths cup milk. Mix and sift the dry ingredients, separate the egg, beat the yolk slightly and the white to a stiff froth, add the milk, beaten yolk and melted butter, and dry ingredients. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Bake in buttered muffin pans 25 minutes.

Doughnuts (our milk)—Two eggs, one cup sugar, one teaspoon soda, one tablespoon melted butter, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one quart flour, one cup sour milk or cream, one tablespoon salt. Season to taste, using vanilla or nutmeg; put the flour, cinnamon, baking powder and sugar in a bowl; dissolve the soda in one tablespoon of hot water; add to the dry; beat the eggs and add the melted lard; beat the eggs and add the milk; add the wet ingredients to the dry; roll out to one-fourth inch thickness, cut and fry in deep fat; do not put in more than two doughnuts at a time or the fat will burn; fry; drain on paper. Makes three dozen doughnuts.

Fresh Pineapple Salad—Pare pineapple and remove the eyes; slice into thin slices and dress with honey dressing; let stand thirty minutes. Serve on lettuce hearts.

Baking Powder Biscuits—Two cups flour, two tablespoons shortening, four teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, three-fourths cup milk. Mix and sift the dry ingredients, separate the egg, beat the yolk slightly and the white to a stiff froth, add the milk, beaten yolk and melted butter, and dry ingredients. JUST WHAT IS AN "ULCERATED TOOTH?"

A girl eight years old was allowed to go in bathing early in the season. That night she had a toothache. Next day the tooth ached some more. A mixture of equal parts of acetic acid and iodine, suggested by the dentist by telephone, was applied to the gums several times and gave considerable relief. But she slept little all the following night, and the third morning she was taken to the dentist. The dentist informed her father that the child had an "ulcerated tooth," but that it would be dangerous to do anything to it until the swelling subsided. We should say here that the dentist sterilized in his office, but he did not phenolize the tooth.

The fourth night the child grew delirious. The doctor was summoned. There was no sign that the pus was pointing—that is no "run boil." The doctor urged immediate extraction. The parents objected—because the dentist had told them it would be dangerous. The child suffered for two more days and nights. Finally a consultation was demanded by the doctor. Counsel insisted upon immediate extraction. A first class dentist was called in. He agreed. He explained in his own words that the tooth was so decayed that it was impossible to save it. The child continued to run a high temperature, have chills and some delirium. She was anathetized once more on the ninth day, and then it was found that necrosis of the jaw bone was extensive. The dead bone was cleaned out, the wound drained, but on the twelfth day the child died from blood poisoning—acute septicemia.

Now, the first dentist in that case was responsible for all the trouble. Upon his head is that child's blood. He told her parents a vicious lie, maybe he knew no better, but if so, he had no right to be practicing dentistry. But the second dentist and the family doctor and the surgeon called in consultation were blamed by all the "old women."

An "ulcerated tooth" is a misnomer. The condition is an abscess, pus at the root of a diseased tooth. The only safe and prompt treatment is the prompt drainage of that pus either by extraction of the diseased tooth or by drilling through the tooth. Possibly the abscess may point on the gum and discharge that way, but only at the expense of needless suffering and more or less necrosis of the jaw bone. The only wonder is that more sufferers do not have a fatal result from delay. A silver in a festering wound is extracted instinctively by everybody. The identical principle applies in the treatment of "ulcerated tooth." The ancient superstition that it was dangerous to treat an ulcerated tooth in an intelligent way doesn't deserve serious consideration today. It is a superstition, and upon the status of the dental profession that such a delusion should be fostered by one of its members. The little girl in the present instance had complained for many days prior to the bathing incident that she couldn't chew popcorn or peanuts, "because it hurt her teeth"—proving that the trouble had already begun, and that the bathing was a mere coincidence.

New Perfection Oil Cook Stoves

No Odor No Smoke No Ashes

Truly this is the housewife's idea of paradise. And these features are only a few of the many advantages of cooking with New Perfection Oil Cook Stoves. No longer is it necessary for you to suffer from the intense heat of the wood or coal burning range long before you are ready to begin operations. Just touch a match to the wick and your fire is ready when you want it. You can have a slow fire or an exceedingly hot one; just as you wish. You don't have to watch it either. The flame will not creep up or diminish.

The Long Blue Chimney is the key to the efficiency of the New Perfection Oil Cook Stoves. The flame never touches the bottom of the utensils. Every atom of oil is burned and converted into usable heat in the long blue chimney. No waste—no dirt—no odor. It makes your summer cooking easy. Write for booklet giving full description and prices of the various types.

We'll admit you have known him for many a year, have always thought he was a nut, but found he was there with ability rare, when he right about faced from the rut; when he proved to the world 'mid an ocean of knocks, that he had the thing, doped about right, and he stuck to his cause, with no time for a pause, 'till he pulled from the darkness to light. Having confidence plus, he would never give up, he was sure should he stick, he would win, while rooking the boat you went after his goat, with a well-chaufered ax in your sn; but in spite of the mob lined to censure the guy—in spite of the gang to oppose, he went to the front and put over his stunt, in the face of a million of foes. He showed to the world his ideas were great, on doping things sane he was long, he staged a great fight, showing us he was right, while he proved that the masses were wrong.

Marrying a Butterfly

MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

"It is splendid!" Ralph's tone was full of enthusiasm. "Just splendid!" echoed Ethel, dropping her evening coat on a chair.

"The final scene in the third act."

"Oh, you mean the play?" interrupted Ethel.

"Surely, what else could I mean?" Ralph stared.

"Oh, the whole thing; the lights, the music, the beautiful dresses."

I felt as if I had waked up from a long, ugly dream.

"You are surely complimentary," said Ralph.

"You know what I mean. I went to the theater or opera two or three times a week and this is the first time we have been anywhere where while in the five months since we were married."

Ralph had not waited for her reply, but reached to the bedroom and began to prepare for bed. Ethel followed and began casting her garments indiscriminately about the room.

"You surely are not going to leave that lovely dress on a chair all night, are you?" he asked critically. His clothes were being put in their respective cases. Carelessness in the care of clothes was inexcusable to him.

"It is a pretty dress isn't it?" Ethel lifted the garment and looked at it admiringly. "I had the prettiest dress of anybody in our party with our any question." In the case of enthusiasm over the dress she began putting it in its sheath.

"Did you notice the dress the blond actress wore?" she continued.

"No," was thinking of the play.

German Coffee Cake

Made Without Yeast

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine.

There is no warm bread more appropriate for Sunday morning breakfast as German Coffee Cake, yet it is seldom made by housewives who do not bake their own bread. If K C double raise Baking Powder is used it will be just as good as it raised with yeast and it will have the further advantage of being fresh and warm. Save this recipe and try it next Sunday.

K C German Coffee Cake

Two and one-fourth cups sifted flour; level teaspoonfuls K C Baking Powder; 1 level teaspoonful salt; 2 tablespoonfuls melted butter; 2 tablespoonfuls sugar; 1 egg; milk.

Sift dry ingredients together, beat the egg, add milk and butter to the egg to make one and one-quarter cups; stir all together with a spoon to a stiff batter. Turn into a greased pan and spread even. Brush top lightly with melted butter. Sprinkle sugar and ground cinnamon over the top. Bake in moderate oven.

Dutch Apple Cake or Prune Kuchen can be made with this same batter by covering the top with puffed apples, or cooked prunes with the pits removed, skin sides down. Dredge with sugar and cinnamon the same as for Coffee Cake.

"The Cook's Book" contains 90 just such delicious recipes. You can secure a copy free by sending the colored certificate packed in 25-cent cans of K C Baking Powder to the Jacques Mfg. Co., Chicago, being sure to write your name and address plainly.

WE WONDER WHY

The world is so full of a number of things that most of us would like to have explained.

Here are a few of them:

Why a car window is built to open so that the frame is at just the right height to obscure one's view, and one must perform choose between fresh air and sight of the landscape.

Whether Mrs. Fat-and-forty owns a mirror, and if so whether she ever looks in it after she puts on that coy midday blouse.

NEVER BOTH CUP AND WINE

Why we cannot simultaneously have both the money and the time to enjoy ourselves.

Why low-heeled, common-sense shoes are seldom made in narrow sizes.

Why a narrow foot shouldn't want to wear a common sense shoe?

How so many plain girls manage to marry the best looking men.

PERHAPS HE DOESN'T AND THEN PERHAPS

Whether the woman who says, "My husband never says a cross word to me, thinks anyone will believe her."

Why, in spite of all we know about ourselves and the mean things we can think and the ugly way we can feel and the selfish impulses that dominate us, we still have a better opinion of ourselves than anyone else does.

WOULD YOU THINK OF HAVING SOME SYMPATHY?

Why the salesgirl who has to scrape along on seven or eight dollars a week is so disdainful and superior and unsympathetic when her customer asks to see "something less expensive."

Why should the world be so arranged that people who live in houses that would be perfectly comfortable and pleasant in the summer are able to shut them up and go to other houses, while the people who live in uncomfortable places have to stay in them the year round.

WHY SUFFER WITH BACKACHE, KIDNEYS OR RHEUMATISM NOW?

Letter Tells of Long-looked-for Prescription.
Dear Readers—If I can do any good in the world for others, I wish to do it, and I feel that it is my duty to write about the wonderful results I received from the use of "Anuric." I was suffering from kidney and bladder troubles, scalding urine, backache and rheumatism, and feet and ankles swelled so that at times I could not walk without assistance. Had taken several different kinds of kidney remedies but all failed. I sent for a box of Dr. Pierce's newest discovery, "Anuric," which I received by mail in tablet form. I soon got better and am convinced that this popular new medicine is good. I wish to recommend it to my neighbors and everybody suffering from such troubles.
MRS. M. J. SARGENT.

NOTE: You've all undoubtedly heard of the famous Dr. Pierce and his well-known medicines. Well, this prescription is one that has been successfully used for many years by the physicians and specialists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for kidney complaints, and diseases arising from disorders of the kidneys and bladder, such as backache, weak back, rheumatism, dropsy, congestion of the kidneys, inflammation of the bladder, scalding urine, and urinary troubles.

Up to this time, "Anuric" has not been on sale to the public, but by the persuasion of many patients and the increased demand for this wonderful healing Tablet, Doctor Pierce has finally decided to put it into the drug stores of this country within immediate reach of all sufferers.

Simply ask for Doctor Pierce's Anuric Tablets. There can be no imitation. Every package of "Anuric" is sure to be Dr. Pierce's. You will find the signature on the package just as you do on Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the ever-famous friend to ailing women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, proven by years to be the greatest general tonic and re-energizer for any one, besides being the best blood-maker known.

Why "Hell Gate."

Hell Gate, the narrow pass in the East river at New York, was called by the Dutch hellegat, meaning "bright strait" or "clear opening." The name quickly suggested the present English form, which was regarded as more appropriate on account of the whirlpools which made navigation dangerous.

Relief in Pulmonary Or Throat Troubles

depends largely on the sufferer's ability to rebuild a weakened system and thus hasten a return of normal body functions. In this effort much depends on fresh air, light and day and rest and good food. The patient should refrain from work that overtaxes, and all sanitary precautions should be taken. These commonsense measures do not always achieve the desired results unless aided by proper medication. It is here that Eckman's Alternative has evidenced its worth, for in many cases it has effected lasting benefit. And often such troubles seem to yield to it. In no case is its use attended with possible harm, since it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs. At your druggist's.

The Reason For It

In driving out the impurities by strengthening each organ of the body to do its work properly is the reason why Father John's Medicine is the best remedy ever prescribed for building up the system if you are run down. No nerve deadening drugs or temporary stimulants to weaken the system and expose you to serious and fatal disease—all pure nourishment.

Bibbs was swept away upon that mighty slinging. Such a thing was wholly unknown to him; there had been no music in his meager life. Unlike the tale, it was the Princess Be-drubdour who had brought him to the enchanted cave, and that—for Bibbs—was what made its magic dazing. It seemed to him a long, long time since he had been walking home dreading from Doctor Gurney's office; it seemed to him that he had set out upon a happy journey since then, and that he had reached another planet, where Mary Vertrees and he sat alone together, listening to a vast choir of invisible soldiers and holy angels. There were armies of voices about them, singing praise and thanksgiving; and yet they were alone. It was incredible that the walls of the church were not the boundaries of the universe, to remain so forever; incredible that there was a smoky street just yonder, where housemaids were bringing in evening papers from front steps and where children were taking their last spins on roller skates before being haled indoors for dinner.

He had a curious sense of communion with his new friend. He knew it could not be so, and yet he felt as if all the time he spoke to her, saying: "You hear this strain? You hear that strain? You know the dream that these sounds bring to me?" And it seemed to him as though she answered continually: "I hear! I hear that strain, and I hear the new one that you are hearing now. I know the dream that these sounds bring to you. Yes, yes, I hear it all! We hear—together!"

And though the church grew so dim that all was mysterious shadow except the vague planes of the windows and the organist's light, with the white head moving beneath it, Bibbs had no consciousness that the girl sitting beside him had grown shadowy; he seemed to see her as plainly as ever in the darkness, though he did not look at her. And all the mighty chanting of the organ's multitudinous voices that afternoon seemed to Bibbs to be chanting of her and interpreting her, slinging her thoughts and singing for him the world of humble gratitude that was in his heart because she was so kind to him. It all meant Mary.

But when she asked him what it meant, on their homeward way, he was silent. They had come a few paces from the church without speaking, walking slowly.

"I'll tell you what it meant to me," she said, as he did not immediately reply. "Almost any music of Handel's always means one thing above all others to me: Courage! That's it. It makes cowardice or whining seem so infinitesimal—it makes most things in our bustling little lives seem infinitesimal."

"Yes," he said. "It seems odd, doesn't it, that people downtown are hurrying to trains and hanging to straps in trolley cars, waiting every way to get home and feed and sleep so they can get downtown tomorrow. And yet there isn't anything down there worth getting to. They're like servants drudging to keep the house going, and believing the drudgery itself is the great thing. They make so much noise and fuss and dirt they forget that the house was meant to live in. The housework has to be done, but the people who do it have been so overpaid that they're confused and worship the housework. They're overpaid, and yet, poor things! they haven't anything that a chicken can't have. Of course, when the world gets to paying its wages sensibly that will be different."

together? who really enjoys beating anybody?—if he sees the beaten man's face? The only way we can enjoy getting ahead of other people nowadays is by forgetting what the other people feel. And that," he added, "is nothing of what the music meant to me. You see, if I keep talking about what it didn't mean I can keep from telling you what it did mean."

"Didn't it mean courage to you, too—a little?" she asked. "Triumph and praise were in it, and somehow those things mean courage to me."

"Yes, they were all there," Bibbs said. "I don't know the name of what he played, but I shouldn't think it would matter much. The man that makes the music must leave it to you and what it can mean to you, and the name he puts to it can't make much difference—except to himself and people very much like him, I suppose."

"I suppose that's true, though I'd never thought of it like that."

"I imagine music must make feelings and paint pictures in the minds of the people who hear it," Bibbs went on, musically, "according to their own natures as much as according to the music itself."

"The musician might compose something and play it, wanting you to think of the Holy Grail, and some people who heard it would think of a prayer meeting, and some would think of how good they were themselves, and a boy might think of himself at the head of a solemn procession, carrying a banner and riding a white horse. And then, if these were some jubilant passages in the music, he'd think of a circus."

They had reached her gate, and she set her hand upon it, but did not open it. Bibbs felt that this was almost the kindest of her kindnesses—not to be prompt in leaving him.

"After all," she said, "you didn't tell me whether you liked it."

"No, I didn't need to."

"No, that's true, and I didn't need to ask. I knew. But you said you were trying to keep from telling me what it did mean."

a boy who has taken to love with me Sunday school teacher. You'll be whipped for it—and ought to be.

There are women who make you think of Diana, crowned with the moon. But they do not have the "Greek profile." I do not believe Helen of Troy had a "Greek profile"; they would not have fought about her if her nose had been quite that long. The Greek nose is not the adorable nose. The adorable nose is about an eighth of an inch shorter.

Much of the music of Wagner, it appears, is not suitable to the piano. Wagner was a composer who could interpret into music such things as the primitive impulses of humanity—he could have made a machine shop into music. But not if he had to work in it. Wagner was always dealing in immensities—a machine shop would have put a majestic lump in so grand a gaze as that.

There is a mystery about pianos, it seems. Sometimes they have to be "sent away." That is how some people speak of the penitentiary. "Sent away" is a euphemism for "sent to prison." But pianos are not sent to prison, and they are not sent to the tuner—the tuner is sent to them. Why are pianos "sent away"—and where? Sometimes a glorious day shines into the most ordinary and useless life. Happiness and beauty come caroling out of the air into the gloomy house of that life as if some stray angel just happened to perch on the roof-tree, resting and singing. And the night after such a day is lustrous and splendid with the memory of it. Music and beauty and kindness—these are the three greatest things God can give us. To bring them all in one day to one who expected nothing—ah! the heart that received them should be as humble as it is thankful. But it is hard to be humble when one is so rich with new memories. It is impossible to be humble after a day of glory.

Yes—the adorable nose is more than an eighth of an inch shorter than the Greek nose. It is a full quarter of an inch shorter. There are women who will be kinder to a sick tramp than to a conquering hero. But the sick tramp had better remember that's what he is. Take care, take care! Humble's the word!

CHAPTER XV.

That "mystery about pianos" which troubled Bibbs had been a mystery to Mr. Vertrees, and it was being explained to him at about the time Bibbs scribbled the reference to it in his notes. Mary had gone upstairs upon Bibbs' departure at ten o'clock, and Mr. and Mrs. Vertrees sat until after midnight in the library talking.

"She needn't to have done that about the piano."

Mrs. Vertrees made a little sound of commiseration. "I don't believe that was because he wasn't suffering, though. Mary told me he seemed wrapped up in his son's succeeding. He isn't vulgar in his boasting, I understand; he doesn't talk a great deal about his—his actual money. No, his bragging usually seemed to be about his family and the greatness of this city."

"Greatness of this city?" Mr. Vertrees echoed, with dull bitterness. "It's nothing but a coal hole. Of course Sheridan says it's great."

Mrs. Vertrees seemed unaware of this outburst. "I believe," she began timidly, "he doesn't boast of—that is, I understand he has never seemed so interested in the—the other one."

Her husband's face was dark, but at that a leavener shadow fell upon it; he looked more haggard than before. "The other one," he repeated, averting his eyes. "You mean—you mean the third son—the one that was here this evening?"

"Yes, the—the youngest," she returned, her voice so feeble it was almost a whisper.
